

Schedule 1 – exempt building work ‘pushing the boundaries’

Recently we came across this two-storey architectural delight with a lookout (essentially a third storey), which had been built without consent. The owner claimed as it was a pergola it did not need a building consent. What do you think?

